"Safety First" Comedy Pleases Cameron People

The farce Comedy, "Safety First" was presented Tuesday evening at Yoe High school Auditorium by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Cameron, under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Guinn, Mrs. Joe Casey, accompanist.

The cast was chosen from local talent, who in a splendid manner, presented the play in a highly pleasing manner to a large appreciative audience. The opening scene of the play was in a sitting room of a suburban home in a large city. The young wife was in terrible distress over the late return of her husband the first time during their married life of more than two years, the part was taken by Mrs. Guinn who was ably supported by the following cast:

Jack Montgomery (a young husband) Clyde Yarbrough.

Jerry Arnold (an unsuccessful fixer) Charlie McGehee.

Mr. McNutt (a defective detective) S. P. Calhoun.

Elmer Flannel (awfully shrinking) E. H. Rinn.

About Ben Macha (a Turk from Turkey) Sim Burns.

Mabel Montgomery (Jack's wife, pity her) Mrs. A. B. Guinn.

Virginia Bridges (her young sister) Pauline Westmoreland.

Mrs. Harrington Bridges (her mother) Eva Price.

Zuleika (a tender Turkish) Jane Caton.

Mary Ann O'Finnerty (an Irish cook) Mary Randolph.

Each part was splendidly given, seemingly to fit into their part. Some startling climaxes were given, keeping the audience guessing the next turn.

A reading given by Christine Kubeka, entitled "Katy Did" was cleverly given.

A special between act was enjoyed: Song and dance, "Poor Papa" was cleverly given by Misses Imogene and Lucille McClaren, the former in costume becoming "poor papa" with attractive chorus girls who were attired in solid blue and pink fairy costumes, composed of the following girls: Misses Carrie Marak, Bess Marak, Annie Woolley, Ruth McGuire, Susie Bell Aycock and Viola Marak.

Allena Maddox and Herbert Freeman cleverly introduced "Just Fun" giving a splendid interpretation of the Charleston, responding to a hearty encore.

Eight persons buying reserved seats holding lucky seat numbers received souvenirs as follows: Miss Jennie Tyson, a gift shop article. W. A. Bonds, a fancy calendar. Hubert Hefley a bouquet of carnations. Mrs. Walter Newton a corsage of sweet peas. Miss Lucy Bauer, pink roses. Mrs. W. B. Levy, a cake. Miss Harriet Flinn a perfume doll. Mrs. L. T. Lewis a fancy handkerchief.

The president of the club, Miss Annie Stallworth gave a footlight talk to the audience explaining the ambition of the Business and Professional Women's Club and thanked the firms and business men who were so loyal to the club, and any who helped to make it possible in presenting "Safety First".

The club wishes to thank Mesdames Bessie Hefley and Homer McLane who looked after and served the splendid luncheon Monday evening to all the members of the play. Special thanks are extended to Mrs. Guinn who so ably directed the play and to the gentlemen taking part.

The club realized $280 gross. The net proceeds are to go into a sinking fund for securing a home-meeting place for the club in the future.

ROCKDALE OIL MAN SLAIN IN FIGHT WHEN HIT BY STONE

DOCTORS TO HOLD BIG RALLY IN CAMERON FRIDAY

FRANK GILDART, 45 IS DEAD FOLLOWING FIGHT

LICK ON HEAD WITH ROCK ENDS LIFE OF OIL LEASE MAN WEDNESDAY

District Attorney Jack Lewis will go to Rockdale Friday morning for the examining trial.

The death of Gildart was a surprise here as the man was expected to recover. The fight occurred on the sidewalk in front of the Lareau Hotel in Rockdale. Gildart had been in Milam county for about six months and was engaged in securing oil leases.

Robbins is a Milam County man and at one time is said to have lived in Cameron. He gave bond promptly after arrest and death of Gildart, before Sheriff L. L. Blaylock.

A street fight during which Frank Gildart, oil man, 45, was struck on the head with a rock, proved fatal for him here today. He died in a hospital, where he was brought last night from Rockdale, scene of the encounter.

Jake Robbins, 35, gave bond of $5,000 on charges in connection with the fight. He is said to have struck Gildart on the head with a stone he held in his hand, causing brain concussion.

The fight which occurred on the main street of Rockdale, is said to have been immediately after Gildart returned from an automobile ride in company of Robbins' 16-year-old daughter.

A Justice Court examining trial is to be held for Robbins at Rockdale Friday.

CAMPAIGN RUMOR IS BRANDED AS FALSE

H. B. MCCELLEN SAYS HE IS NOT KLANSMAN AND NEVER HAS BEEN; NAILS REPORT

In a statement to the people H. B. McClellan, candidate for tax assessor of Milam County, brands as false the report being circulated that he is a Ku Klux. The statement of Mr. McClellan is as follows:

It has been reported by a few people who wish to see me defeated in the race for tax assessor, that I am a Ku Klux. I wish to call attention to the fact that this accusation is false and unjust, and without ground. I am not a member of the Ku Klux organization, and I challenge any one to produce evidence that I am, or that I have ever been.

I have never found it necessary to join any secret organization in order to prove my one hundred per cent Americanism, for I served nineteen months in the American army and sacrificed an arm in the world war, which I think should be evidence sufficient to prove that I am one hundred per cent American. My record is open to the world and I invite the voters of Milam County to investigate the indictment that I am a Ku Klux.

I hold no ill feeling against, nor have I any fight to make on those who have circulated this false report, calculated to injure me in this campaign, only I wish to refute it and put the voters of Milam County right as to my position.

It is my desire to run a clean race, free from the dirt of maneuvering petty politicians and I prefer to be elected on my own merits rather than because of anyone's faults.

So I hope the voters of Milam County will not take this "mud slinging" seriously, but give me fair consideration.

CITIZENS BANK CHOSEN DEPOSITORY FOR CITY

ONLY BANK IN CAMERON TO BID ON FUNDS OF CITY AND IS GIVEN ACCOUNT

The Citizens National Bank was awarded the depository for the city funds at the meeting of the council on Tuesday.

The Citizens Bank was the only Cameron bank to bid on the account and agreed to pay three and a half per cent interest on deposits.

The bank has five days under the law in which to qualify for the depository. All funds are now in the Citizens Bank.

For the first time in many years, if not the first time in the history of the city, the people are to receive interest on their money.

The finances of the city have not been arranged as yet. On account of the existence of a change in Article 1021 of the Revised Statutes which prohibits public debts from bearing in excess of 6 per cent interest, none of the banks have agreed as yet to finance the city.

This new law went into effect on September 1, 1925. And obligations of the city since that date must bear 6 per cent interest. This law will affect only those debts incurred since that date.

The council passed an ordinance authorizing, according to law, the mayor to borrow money for the city to bear interest not to exceed 6 per cent. The council regrets that it is not able as yet to proceed with payment of current expenses but feels that it has no option to pay a higher rate than the law specifies.

BLUEBONNETS

You seem to me dear, timid, little maids,
Who hide their pretty faces 'neath the shades
Of their quaint, peaked bonnets, blue-and-white.

I creep behind you thinking to surprise
The stolen glances of shy, laughing eyes—
And catch the sweetness of your fragrant breath.

You nod and curtsy to the passing breeze;
Your softness and your daintiness but tease
My soul with visions of your faint caress.

The Vanities of 1926

—If Thackeray were to write his "Vanity Fair" to day—

—His concepts would undergo a very radical change. In his day the Vanities of woman were looked upon as weakness and folly. Today it is different. In this enlightened age of progress and equality, Milady's personal appearance becomes a very vital problem of her life. Her Vanities are an important part of her personality that groom her the better for her "hour upon the stage" of life!

Knowing that most women are interested in observing and learning from the experiences of others, we are staging "the Vanities of 1926"—a series of articles of special interest to her. Watch for and read the Vanities as they appear from time to time.

City Repeals Act Of Council In Pledging Revenues; Unlawful

By ordinance Tuesday the council repealed all ordinances pledging current revenues for past debts and also authorized Mayor Davis to borrow money to finance the government at 6 per cent interest, the limit now allowed under the law governing municipal debts. The law went into effect on September 1, 1925.

The repeal of the ordinances releases to the city about $36,000 in which to operate the government. The ordinance passed does not repudiate the debts. They are valid debts against the city but the law provides that they be paid out of current revenues.

In support of the action of the council the officials obtained an opinion from W. A. Morrison, attorney, which reads as follows:

As to the question, it was inferentially decided in the case of Sherman Vs. Smith, 35 S. W. 294, decided Feb. 26, 1896, in which it was held the court had no authority to control the city council in requiring it to pay the debts of previous years out of the funds derived by taxation during the current year. In other words, that the funds derived during any one year were subject to the payment of all current expenses for that particular year in preference to any other claim.

In the case of Pendleton Vs. Ferguson, 99 Texas 296, decided Nov. 13, 1905, Judge Gaines speaking for the Supreme Court on this question, said:

"We think that the holder of the claim against the city, which has accrued as a part of the current expense fund for that year has been exhausted, becomes a general creditor."

"A fund raised for a specific purpose is priorly dedicated to that purpose, and hence we conclude that the holder of claims which have accrued during a particular fiscal year for current expenses, are entitled to priority of payment out of the current expenses fund of that year."

You are advised that the purpose of the law seems to be to allow the members of the city council pretty general and unrestricted authority to contract debts against the city, but the object for which the city's money may be expended is somewhat more restricted and the purposes for which the money can be expended are generally enumerated, yet the limitation of the amount that may be so contracted is not definitely fixed.

However, when payments are to be made, quite another question is presented, because the Constitution has limited the amount of the taxes that can be levied, and in cities of the population of Cameron the rate cannot be more than one dollar and fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of valuation for any one year for all purposes. Then, what is to be done when the council has contracted a greater amount of debts than the rate of taxation allowed by the Constitution will discharge?

As this question does not seem to be fully understood even by Mayors and Aldermen, it may not be inappropriate to explain.

Mayors and Aldermen, under the stress of doing the best they can for their city sometimes overestimate the amount of taxes that they are going to collect, and contract debts accordingly, and when pay day comes they are unable to pay. They have violated no law and have incurred no penalty. They have simply made a mistake. The creditor has trusted and relied on their judgment when he should have trusted and relied on his own. The creditor stands in the same position of a farmer who has advanced supplies to a tenant, to make a crop and has trusted to the tenant's judgment instead of his own as to how much the tenant would be able to pay. The law gives the landlord a lien on the tenant's crops for the current year, but it does not give him a lien on the next year's crop. The landlord has a lien on the crop for only one year. The creditor of the city does not have a lien as such by name, but he does have one in effect, because the revenues of the City in effect became by law a trust fund out of which the "current expenses" of the city must be paid, and the city may by law be forced to use such funds for such purpose. At the end of the year the proceeds of the tenant's crop is not sufficient to pay the landlord's debt. He cannot put the tenant in jail, but he can sue the tenant for the balance and get a judgment for the unpaid amount due. However, this does not get him the money, but he can hold his judgment and if the tenant ever gets property sufficient, subject to execution, he can make his money out of it. All this is well understood.

Now the very same rule applies to the indebtedness of the city, but the city is a public corporation and has certain obligations resting upon it and duties to be performed to the public. And therefore, the city council cannot be allowed to destroy the city in anything it can do, and the city must continue to exist for the benefit of the public and to continue to discharge its duties and obligations to the public. These duties cannot be discharged without money, and the money cannot be obtained except by taxation, and the taxation has been wisely limited by the Constitution. Therefore, there is a limited amount of obligations that can be paid, because the continued existence of the city is intended. It will, therefore, readily be seen that the city can not be allowed to contract away or to spend the contemplated revenues of the city for any year than the present, except and only as to so much as may be in excess of its current expenses. Otherwise the council may contract away or even pledge the revenues of the city, say during the next two, five, ten or any number of years. When this has been done and the succeeding years arrive there will be no money to defray the current expenses of that year, because the city has already spent it, and the city must die because it cannot exist without money, any more than a person can without air, and so such debts that have been contracted to be paid out of the unborn revenues cannot be paid, notwithstanding the contract to pay them, because a dead city cannot pay live debts.

This being the situation the Courts have worked out the rule which they have grounded upon their interpretation of the implied intention of the Legislature, that a city cannot pledge or expend its revenues for any one year, only for "current expenses," except what sum may be left after its "current expenses" have been paid, and by "current expenses" is meant the expenses for the then present year.

It must be clear then from the nature of things, that the city has no power to contract as to its general revenue so as to use it for the payment of debts incurred in the past, and it is immaterial whether such debts are already due or are to become due in the future. They have no claim on the funds of the city until such time as the revenues of the city then in the treasury may be in excess of the needs of the city for "current expenses." It makes no difference that these prior and unpaid debts were contracted for "current expenses" of the year in which they were made. If they were not paid out of the current revenues of the year they were made, their holders, as a matter of law, fall into that class which the Supreme Court, as we have seen from the quotation above, denominates "general creditors," and "general creditors" can be paid only out of the surplus before mentioned. If there is no surplus, there can, as a matter of fact, be no payment. You cannot get blood out of a turnip, for the simple reason there is no blood in it—neither can you get money out of a treasury when there is none in it. This matter has been fully explained by the Supreme Court in City of Tyler Vs. Jester, 78 Tex. 344, decided Feb. 25, 1904.

But a city is not required to spend all of its revenue in any one given year, and in the doubtful contingency of the city having a surplus of revenue at any time, the city may, and can even be forced, to use the surplus to pay its past due debts.

But it will be said that if a person has trusted the city he should be paid whatever his indebtedness shall amount to, provided it is an honest debt. That is true, but the city has no power to act as these creditor's guardian, nor to play wet nurse to any one of them. When he trusted the city he was charged with the knowledge of the law. He was just as good a judge of the city's ability to pay as was the city council. If he overestimated that ability, or the amount of revenues the city would have to spend, he is in no worse fix than the farmer who trusted his tenant. He has exactly the same remedy as the farmer and no more. He can sue the city and get judgment for his debt, but he can no more advertise and sell the city than the farmer can advertise and sell the tenant. He, like the farmer, must wait until such time as the city has revenues in excess of its "current expenses" at any time, and then the city may be required to pay his judgment. Until that time comes it is evident he will no more collect his debt than will the farmer collect his from his delinquent tenant. The judgment obtained by the creditor against the city will bear six per cent interest and no more, and his judgment will be good if the city's revenues in any one year are in excess of its "current expenses" and he proceeds in the proper manner to force the city to pay his judgment, or at least to use all of the surplus revenue toward its payment as far as it will go. Until then he is powerless to collect his judgment.

It will, therefore, be seen that any creditor of the city for current expenses during the fiscal year of 1926 will have a preference and prior right to all of the general revenues of the city for such year for the payment of such debts, and the city may be forced to use such revenues for the payment of such debts. He needs no pledge of such funds by the city, the law has pledged it in advance, but the city may pledge it if it desires.

I therefore believe that your questions should be answered in the affirmative, as indicated in the beginning, and that the foregoing reasons justify the conclusion arrived at.

Yours truly,

W. A. MORRISON.

Cameron, Texas,
May 10th, 1926.

BILIOUS SPELLS

Kentucky Man Finds Relief from Dizzy Attacks.

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky.

"I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything.

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of 'pep' and could do twice the work."

Made from pure medicinal roots and herbs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for such symptoms as the above, when due to a torpid liver.

BACKACHE

Mississippi Lady Benefited by Taking Cardui.

"I took Cardui for backache and a weakened, run-down condition, and it strengthened and helped me," says Mrs. Mattie Hurt, of Coldwater, Miss.

"Before the birth of my children, when weak and nauseated, I took Cardui. After the birth of my children, when just getting up to do my work, I took a couple of bottles of Cardui and it never failed to strengthen and help me when taking it."

"I seemed to enjoy my food and my back would feel stronger. I don't believe I could have kept going had it not been for Cardui and the strength it gave me."

"When change of life came on I got down in bed. Life seemed to be just a terrible drag. I did not have strength for anything. My back hurt. My limbs hurt. I was so nervous I couldn't rest."

"I knew what Cardui had done, so sent straight for it, and it did just as it had done before—strengthened and built me up."

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

A Servant of the People

YOUR ELECTRIC light and power system is the most faithful servant in the community. Its hours are long—24 a day—it knows no strikes, and it works for less than any other servant save one—the two cent postage stamp.

In the home it quietly and quickly cooks the meals, sweeps, sews, washes, irons, lights the lamps, and assists the housewife in countless other ways. It never "answers back."

It is the silent partner of industry. In store and factory it makes the machinery go, brings in trade, furnishes economical and efficient light, heat and power, and saves endless hours of labor.

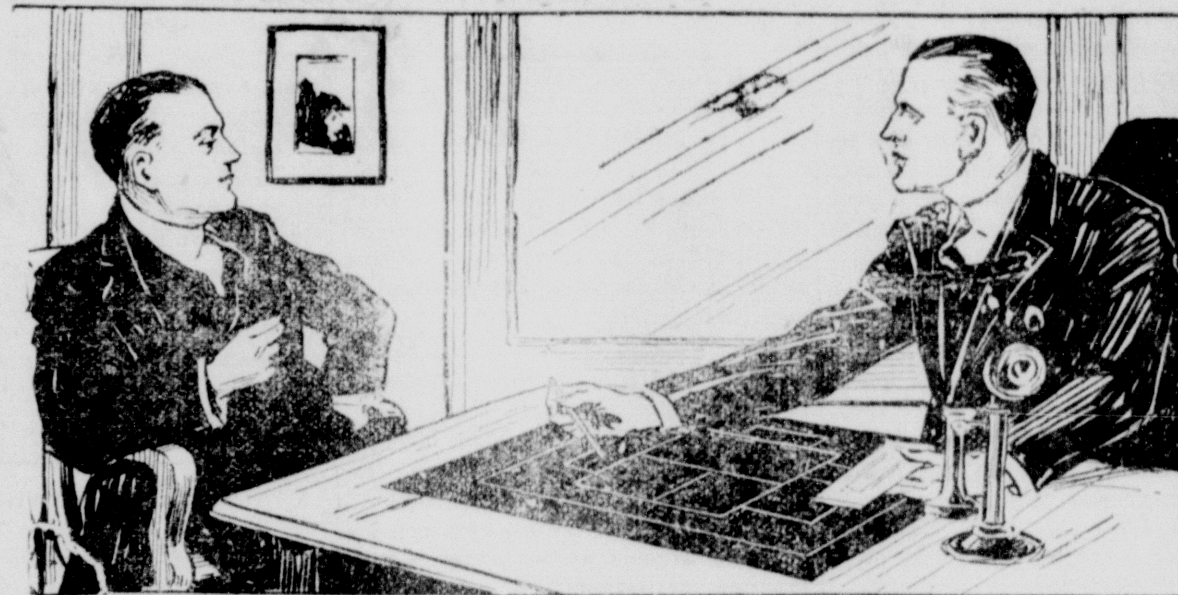

It works with church and school to further the intellectual and spiritual advancement of our children and ourselves. It helps police our streets and safeguard our property. And it is democratic. Rich and poor are served alike. The light responds whether the button is pressed by magnate or mechanic.

Our whole scheme of living in this country to-day is built upon the existence of public utilities and their efficient operation. If Electricity, alone, were cut off for any length of time the whole nation would be thrown out of gear to the point of actual disaster.

The Texas Public Utilities Company Serves the public. You are the public. No one is in better position to render fair judgment than are you. The Texas Public Utilities Company is your servant. Encourage this faithful servant as you would any other employee. Do it through the magic of Mutual Helpfulness and Good Will.

Laws You Don't Want

Laws requiring the Santa Fe and other railroads to spend money needlessly, tend to keep freight rates up. Limiting length of trains and saying how many men shall be employed to run a train, to that extent prevent lowering costs. This is your problem, too. Think it over.

In a manufacturing business the greater the output the lower the cost per unit. Therefore all progressive manufacturing concerns try to increase volume of output.

The railroads of this country are in the manufacturing business. They make and sell transportation.

Obviously it is to their interest to sell their product at as low a price as possible, in order to increase volume of business handled.

To sell at a lower price they must get their costs down to as low a figure as possible consistent with good service.

They cannot lower prices for materials and supplies, or wages, the latter being fixed by agreements with the men and by the Labor Board established by law.

The only other way left is by more efficient operation—that means handling more freight per man employed. To handle more freight economically means larger locomotives, better track and longer trains.

Laws limiting the number of cars in a train, or saying how many men shall be employed on a train, are laws which to that extent prevent lowering costs and keep up rates.

Any laws that require the railroads to spend money needlessly have a tendency to keep up rates.

While primarily this is a railroad problem, in the end it affects your own business as well. That is why your attention is called to it in this way. Think it over.

Road Tests Prove Buick Quality

the model will stand up in actual use. Hundreds of thousands of car miles are travelled before any part is considered ready to be put into production. Many changes are usually necessary before the car meets the exacting standards set.

In order to duplicate actual road conditions and to give the car a service test more rigid than they are ever likely to receive in actual use, Buick test cars are daily put through their paces at the General Motors Proving Grounds near Milford, Michigan.

Here the cars are tested in every conceivable manner for strength, stamina, comfort, roadability and economy of operation. Each of the fifteen or twenty test cars is driven from 300 to 500 miles every twenty-four hours. They are periodically torn down and inspected for signs of wear by Buick engineers.

The picture shows a speed test in which a fifth wheel and recording apparatus is used. It is one of hundreds of tests which determine the qualities of the car.

MANY months are spent in designing and experimental work before an automobile is actually produced in quantity. The engineering department must plan a model down to the finest detail, and then build a fleet of test cars to be used in proving that

S. P. CROSS WINS SUIT AGAINST THE MACCABEES

$1,219.29 RECOVERED IN SUIT WITH INSURANCE COMPANY IN MICHIGAN

S. P. Cross has been awarded $1,219.29 in a suit against the Maccabees, insurance order, according to dispatch from Austin yesterday.

The suit arose over efforts to cancel the policy after Mr. Cross had refused to accede to increase in rates. The amount of the money recovered represents premiums paid up to date of cancellation of the policy.

Austin, May 19.—The Maccabees, operating under a Michigan charter in Milam County, will have to pay Sterling P. Cross, $1,219.29 and interest, for premiums paid in since 1893, because they canceled his "insurance certificate" after he refused to pay the increased premium under a re-classification, the third court of appeals ruled today.

"Mutt and Jeff" In Contest At Baptist Church S. S. Class

"Mutt and Jeff" nationally known folks and in fact great American Institutions, are in a contest at the Baptist church in the Sunday School class of Fred B. Cable.

The contest is to run 8 weeks and at the end of that time the side contributing the largest number of members will be served a banquet or barbecue.

Sunday morning the membership of the active roll was divided equally. John E. Mangum and J. B. White were chosen leaders for the two sides, Mr. Mangum having the "Mut's" and Mr. White the "Jeff's".

Each member attending the class will be given his choice of the side on which he wishes to take. The sides will meet Sunday morning and organize for the active canvas for membership.

The contest is a friendly effort to increase the membership of the class.

The plan has the active support of the teacher, Fred B. Cable and the president, Preston Graves.

The eligible membership for this class is about 100 men in Cameron according to the religious census and the class will attempt to interest all in attending the class.

Be Careful What You Say

In speaking of another's faults,
Pray don't forget your own;
Remember those wit homes of glass,
Should never throw a stone.
If we have nothing else to do,
But talk of those who sin,
'Tis better we commence at home,
And from that point begin.
I'll tell you of a better plan,
And find it works quite well—
I try my own defects to cure
Before the others tell.
And though I never expect to be Free from mistakes below,
My own shortcomings bid me let
The faults of others go.

J. J. Elliott, Jones Clement, G. S. Summerlin, Ernest Richter, Chas. Salter and Smith Summerlin returned from Austin Tuesday afternoon and brought tidings of great joy to the people of this community. The mission of their visit to Austin was to confer with the Highway department and the governor in a continued effort to get active work started on repairing the Brushy Creek bottom on the Rockdale-Thorndale portion of Highway No. 43.

These gentlemen report that they found a special friend in ex-Governor

Ferguson who had already been looking into the justness of our request for immediate relief, in fact, Governor Ferguson had already given her endorsement with a special urge to Mr. Denison, the contractor, that this piece of road work be done at once, and Mr. Denison informs the committee from Thorndale that he has orders to make a good job of it.

Plans and specifications of the work to be done call for a bridge 8 feet high and 426 feet long to be built through the bottom. The piers are to be twenty feet long and driven in the ground to a depth of twelve feet. The dirt work for the bridge abutments will require about 15,000 yards of dirt to be handled. This will have gravel over it and the total cost of the work contemplated is estimated at $10,000. This work will be done at the cost of the state and be paid for out of a special fund for such special requirements, and therefore will not come out of our bond issue money.

The above gentlemen whose constant efforts in behalf of having this piece of road repaired are to be congratulated on their success in accomplishing their purpose and they are given the credit for bringing about this relief at a time when it is most needed and appreciated.—Thorndale Champion.

ROCKDALE MAYOR IS GIVEN WATCH

Rockdale, May 17.—H. C. Meyer, mayor of Rockdale, is sporting a handsome gold watch and chain, with his monogram engraved on the back surrounded with the following words: "From the citizens of Rockdale for unselfish service—1926."

The presentation of this watch came as a surprise to Mr. Meyer, who was invited to attend a stag "42" party at the home of Ben Loewenstein, Jr., where he found 12 or 15 of his fellow-citizens awaiting him. The presentation speech was made by E. A. Camp. Meyer has served the city as mayor for an unbroken term of 20 years, and in manifesting his loyalty to his town has been prodigal in the use of his own time and funds.

Chevrolet Turns Out Over 2,900 Cars Daily

With retail sales far in excess of factory production and thousands of unfilled orders reported on hand by dealers, the Chevrolet Motor Company manufactured 233,683 cars during the first four months of this year, the highest number of three-speed transmission type cars ever turned out by any manufacturer in a similar period.

The month of April set a new high production mark in the history of the company, when 71,157 cars were made in 2 working days, and average daily production of 2,964 units.

Of the 71,157 cars made the last month, 62,652 were for domestic consumption. Retail domestic sales for the month totaled 68,278 cars, showing sales were 5,626 ahead of United States factory production for the month. Production was pushed far beyond the normal output to take care of dealers' expanding demands.

A new high record for sales in a single week was set in the week ending May 1, when 17,628 cars were sold at retail.

"Chevrolet is attaining one of the most spectacular successes in the automobile industry because it is not only pleasing its owners but constantly gaining thousands of new friends," said W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company. "Under the most varied traffic and road conditions in city and country, its sturdy performance, modern appearance and comfort are creating an atmosphere of good will through word of mouth commendation—the most effective advertising any automobile can have."

Factory schedules call for building of over 70,000 cars a month for forecasting a continuance of steady demand throughout the summer.

When the kidneys weaken the uric acid accumulates, poisoning blood and nerves, and many mysterious aches and ills result. Help your kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Your friends and neighbors recommend Doan's.

J. F. Richey, mason, Cameron, says: "My kidneys were sluggish and failed to act as often as they should. The secretions were scanty and discolored in passage. This kidney disorder put me all out of sorts and I felt droopy and irritable and not my usual self. ACCEPTING RESPONSIBILITY

A man who is succeeding rather well in a business position was asked a few days ago, how he was making out.
He said that he was doing well, and that his success was due more than anything else, to his habit of accepting responsibility.

He remarked that the great majority of the people he knew, of some problem relating to their work was put up to them, would say, "This is up to so and so," and would pass the buck on to that fellow. People seemed to dislike to take on any new responsibility, but were inclined to just go round and round in their little narrow rut same as they had before.

His theory, on the contrary, was that if some feature connected with his work did not go well, to just try to take hold of it and improve it, even if it did not strictly belong to his job.
This caused him extra work and trouble and perhaps anxiety, but he did not hesitate to accept these added burdens.

It may be said that this idea works well up to a certain point; but that some folks are too officious and inclined to meddle with the functions that belong to someone else, when they would better stick right to their own job and do that well, and leave the rest of the work to those in whose department it comes.

Yet for everyone who tries to occupy too big a field in his job, there are a dozen who will not accept responsibility for anything that is different from their ordinary routine.
Where that spirit prevails in a business, it is difficult to move it out of its old ways. Modern business needs a lot of people who are using their heads, and trying to solve every problem that in any way interferes with the improvement of their work.

PERSONAL HANDICAPS

Dr. Roback, an experimental psychologist, and former Harvard university professor, recently conducted a study among young people who are taking university extension courses and also among technology students, to obtain their point of view on many personal subjects.

Among the questions asked them, was as to what they considered their greatest handicap. Thirty seven percent of these named either self consciousness or lack of confidence, as the thing that held them back the most.

Such a result reflects the inner experience of a multitude of people who never accomplish what they might in the world, because of these two traits which seem nearly the same thing.
They feel innate powers within them that are capable of making good, but for some fear of ridicule or of failure, or inability to throw themselves into their activities without question as to the result, they hold back, and never achieve the things they might.

Many of these young people will make one or two timid trails in some direction, and when they do not at first achieve the success they dreamed of, they will conclude that they are no good. They settle down into some activity that is below their possible standard, and they never accomplish what they might in the world.

The ambitious person needs a certain capacity for laughing at defeat.
He needs to be rather careless whether he gets personally laughed at, though he needs a sense of humor so that he shall not do things that are essentially incongruous and absurd.
A brave try for any prize is always worth the effort. Even if one fails, it will give one experience that can be used in making a new try for some desired result.

Most people could accomplish very much more than they are doing in the world, if they only thought so.

LABOR ORGANIZATION

The tremendous general strike in Great Britain has brought up the very difficult question as to what is the proper field for labor union organization.

It is generally admitted to be necessary and essential that labor have a certain amount of organization. The individual workman employed by large concerns, may be too weak to deal successfully with the corporation for which he works. He needs the protection given by some degree of organization.

That does not necessarily mean,
however, that the workmen in all plants need to organize. In a great many concerns, the employees feel they are getting along very well without such organization, and they do not see the necessity of standing the cost of the same, or submitting to its limitations. Their employers may feel that it is worth while to take such special pains to reach satisfactory relations with their help, that conditions are harmonious without any special organization on the part of the workpeople.

It is necessary that all elements in the community should realize that they must submit to the laws and customs of the community as a whole, and that they must expect to give good service. Both capitalists and workmen sometimes get too independent, and think that by the power of wealth or organization they can dictate their own terms, regardless of the sense of right and justice of the community. The nation as a whole is greater than any of its parts, and it will insist that all elements submit to the government and contribute fairly to the public welfare.

The relations of employers and employees in this country are on the whole very good and have much improved during recent years. Both are realizing more and more that they must make their gains by the efficiency of their performance rather than by fighting power.

THE MOTTO OF SERVICE

The competition of modern business is centering on the idea of better service. If the business men of a community are anxious to see their trade increase, and their towns grow more prosperous, their efforts need to center around this idea of service.

The old theory of a business was centered too much around the question of selling. The idea was to get a customer into your place of business, convince him that the article you had
was what he wanted, get his money,
and then the whole transaction closed.

That was rather efficient for those times, but it is an inadequate conception of business now. The modern idea of service is more of an attempt to find out what people want and need and see to it that the thing sold makes good. That demands a more intelligent study of products and merchandise, and it calls upon sellers and producers to take more pains and trouble than they did in the old days. But when the business men carry out that policy consistently, their reputation spreads and people like to do business with them.

WORKING ON HOME GROUNDS

A good many families here in Cameron spend quite a little money in hiring men to take care of their gardens and lawns. It is an excellent way to use money, and so far as one can afford it, it pays many times over.

It is also a fine thing for men and women to form the habit of working on their home grounds with their own hands. When they do that, they are not satisfied with plain and unadorned places, but they are constantly adding some new touch of beauty. A home will never look like a kind of machine product then, but it will look as if some craftsman had done it for love.

DAN TAKES A TUMBLE

In another part of this issue is a brief political address delivered by Lynch Davidson. Read it. Mr. Davidson is the only candidate in the race for governor who talks and conducts himself like a statesman.

I don't think any politician's stock
Dan Moody's during the past two months. The re-letting of the highway contracts at a total cost of more than $900,000, when he cancelled the original contracts at a consideration of $600,000 shown that his political heroism has cost us exactly $300,000.
That's too much to pay for our heroes.
We can get 'em cheaper than that.
Humpty-Dumpty's well known fall wasn't a circumstance to the tumble taken by Dan Moody when the facts became known about the way he "saved" us $600,000. He saved us that $600,000, all right; but it cost us $900,000 to let him do it. What would you think about a friend who saved
you six dollars, later to find that you were three dollars worse off than you would have been if he hadn't saved you a cent? In other words, that it cost you nine dollars for him to save you the six? That's exactly the kind of a hero Dan Moody is.

Lynch Davidson's speeches over the state indicate that he knows something about the principles of sound government; that he is a student of history, especially the constitutional history of his country. The only argument I have seen or heard against Lynch Davidson, thus far, is that he is a rich man. I don't know whether he will be able to surmount that handicap or not. It doesn't help a candidate for it to be generally known that he is able to finance a change of shirts any time he feels ready. We "poor but honest Democrats" have understood that for a long time—and we have often mentioned the matter to the rich, rascally Republicans." However, Texas Democracy might experiment a little along this line by electing a man to the office of governor who stands well with the Retail Credit Men's Association. It would be a wonderful sight to see a governor sworn into office down at Austin with no bill collectors hanging around the front door.

It is a fact that Lynch Davidson is solvent and in no immediate danger of the bankrupt court. However, let's give him a respectful hearing. That kind of a man might have some sense

Lives 63 Years In County Before He Sees Court House

Cameron, Texas, May 14.—Bryant
Cravey, 63 years old, born in the Salty community, paid his first visit to Cameron, the county seat, and the court house today when he appeared before the commissioners court with a delegation from his community on road matters.

Friends of Mr. Cravey showed him over the court house and jail.—Houston Chronicle.

Milam County boasts of many splendid citizens of the home-loving type of which Bryant Cravey is an excellent example. They are always welcome to Cameron.

The Cravey family are old time friends of Judge E. F. English who recalls his first housekeeping experiences as neighbors of them. Judge English recalls the double names of each member of the Cravey family after many years of separation and Bryant Cravey was most pleased to renew his old-time friendship with Judge English.

From the Cravey family has come one of the best preachers of the present day in the Texas Annual Conference, Rev. J. W. Cravey who is well known to many in Cameron.

Mrs. J. M. F. Gill of Burkburnett, Texas, who will preside over the 33rd annual convention of the Texas Women's Press Association at the St.
Anthony Hotel in San Antonio, was formerly a beloved Cameron citizen and was at one time a member of the staff of the Cameron Herald. The Dallas News of Sunday carried a splendid likeness of Mrs. Gill and the following notation:

Mrs. Gill, presiding officer, has been a member of the Texas Woman's Press zation during those years. She has served as president one year.

Pocket Memoranda for 1926 Car Buy- ers Around $1000 Class

1. What cars can you buy in the $1,000.00 class fully equipped, that have been on the market at least two years? Essex.

2. All automobile men know that it takes a car at least a year, (after a new model comes out or an old one has undergone important changes) to get the bugs out. By bugs we mean the little nice adjustments of all parts of the motor—chassis—
and the body before the manufacturer and the buyer is satisfied that the MAJORITY of buyers will stay sold. The Essex six has been built 2 1-2 years and is not buggy.

3. The outstanding improvements of 1924 was the lowering of center of gravity of cars and Essex stood forth the leader in the field.

4. Also in that year engineers recognized that a fast, easy riding, light—

6. cylinder closed car would reach an enormous flood of buyers and Essex was built.

5. Essex cars prove that more money cannot buy more comfort.

6. Essex did not get the smallest balloon tire for equipment,
they use oversize.

7. We are not always after our customers to trade their old models, we have no yearly models that discount all the customers car.

8. Have you ever heard of rear end trouble in Hudson or Essex?

9. Is there another 6 cylinder car under $2,900, with counterbalanced crankshaft?

10. In 1926 the steel body is the outstanding good feature, Essex has that.

11. The Essex with $91.00 worth of equipment delivered at your door for $874.00.

12. The next time a car salesman waxes enthusiastic over his motor specifications we would be pleased to lay part for part in front of you for your own judgement.

13. We have local owners who will vouch for tires running 19-000 miles on Essex.

14. Also gasoline consumption from 15 to 30 miles to the gallon. Names on request.

15. Yes! Hudson is the largest builder of 6 cylinder cars in the world. Quality gave them quan-ity sales, quantity sales gave them the price. Unmatched anywhere.

16. Remember if you get a car with less than a steel body your car will likely suffer a big drop when its makes turns to building them the new way. Demand a steel body.

17. Essex seats have practically as many adjustments as an easy chair. You can have a seat fitted to your individual requirements.

18. Watch the highways, 800-
000 autoists bought Essex cars,

Baptist Church

WHAT BAPTIST BELIEVE

For the past several years there has been quite a contention as to what Baptists believe and it was proposed two years ago that a committee should make a new statement of the Baptist beliefs. That committee brought in its report to the convention in Memphis in 1925, but the convention did not agree as a whole upon that statement. There were difference of opinion as to just what should be said with reference to the wide spread doctrine of evolution.

This agitation was continued throughout the year and when the convention met last week in Houston Dr. Geo. W. McDaniel was elected president of the convention. In closing his inaugural address he made the following statement:

"I am happy to believe that this convention accepts Genesis as teaching that man was the special creation of God and rejects every theory, evolution or otherwise, which teaches that man originated in, or came by way of, a lower animal ancestry."

Immediately after this statement Dr. Dodd made a motion that that be adopted as the sentiment of the convention, and it was adopted unanimously.

So we might say, then, with reference to "What Baptists Believe,"

1. Baptist believe the Bible to be the inspired word of God and accepts its teachings. We believe the Genesis account of creation and accept readily all the miracles of the Bible. In other words we do not try to get the miracles of the Bible to harmonize with what the Modern Scientists would say was nature or what they would say was impossible. "For with God all things are possible."

2. Baptist believe in Salvation by Grace. That is, we believe that Christ alone can save and that He saves completely and there is not a thing a sinner can do but surrender to Christ that can help save his soul. "For by Grace are ye saved thro faith and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God, not of words lest any man should boast."

3. Baptists believe in Baptism by emersion. That emersion is the Scriptural mode of Baptism, scholars of other denominations will readily agree for the Scripture clearly state: "We are buried with Christ in Baptism."

4. Baptist believe in Government by the people. We do not believe in any over lords in the Kingdom of God, but we do believe that every soul must be responsible to God. Hence we find ourselves in complete harmony with the great American Principal of government by the people.

So Baptists Beliefs may be easily described as follows:

The Bible is the word of God.
Salvation is by Grace.
Baptism is by emersion.
Government is by the people.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

In regard to announcements this word needs to be said, that is, that the 11 o'clock hour is not a place or time for announcements to be made. The pastor is constantly called on by the people to make all kinds of announcements, such as: weddings, funerals, lodges, clubs, school exercises, politics. The public seems to think that it is perfectly all right to call on a pastor to make all these announcements. On the other hand, if a pastor should go to these places and dare to ask to make his announcements there regarding the church, he would be laughed out of court.

I have recently refused a number of announcements and it is my intention to refuse practically all of them from here on. I go to the expense and extra work of publishing a church bulletin and mailing to every home in the church every week and will be glad to carry any announcement that you may wish. If the various organizations of the church wants their announcements made, they will please get them to the pastor by Monday night of each week. The time set apart for worship must not be used for other things.

Mrs. Fontaine Flinn of Bishop and baby girl, Harriet Carolyn, are here to visit in the Cheeves and Flinn homes.

Bright Wings of Romance

By RALPH D. PAINE

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect uniquely and forlorn. Four-square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toil of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed untended by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unashamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber later years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling splinter went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, baymaker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded shirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard.

The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled moustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife in the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grandmother by now?"

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," sturdily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone. I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat with folded hands, while the red coals covered the dead ashes. Her face was no longer harsh and unlovely. The bright wings of romance had brushed

Miss Mary Ellen Manning, '26 will give a piano solo.

Miss Eloise Rogers, '24 now president and leading soloist of Baylor College Choral Club will give a vocal solo.

Some Pep, will be supplied by the members of the class of '29. We will not let you know who they are, but they know their stuff.

The final number is a one act play, "Miss Civilization." This play is a

HOW LAND SWINDLERS AND LOAN SHARKS DEFRAUD THEIR PREY

W. R. Morehouse Reveals Further Schemes by Which Poor Widows Are Bereft of Their Savings—Unbelievable Frauds Are Worked on the Uninformed.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

ARTICLE NO. III

LAND swindles are almost as common as sand on the sea-shore. Here is one. A widow was left alone in the world with but $6,000. She was urged to take a free ride into the country to look over a new town site. Just a pleasure ride, she was told. No obligation on her part. She accepted the invitation with no intention of parting with her precious $6,000, but she fell among high-pressure salesmen and in an unguarded moment she affixed her signature to a contract to purchase a vacant lot for the $6,000 cash she had in a savings bank.

Thirty days after she drew out her account for what she supposed was a business lot she received a notice that her monthly instalment of $6,000 was due, being a $1,000 payment on each of six $6,000 lots. Strange as it may seem, not until she received this notice did she read the contract she had signed. Instead of buying one $6,000 lot and paying for it, as she meant to do, she had signed a contract to buy six $6,000 business lots and the $6,000 she drew from the bank had been applied as a first payment of $1,000 each on the six lots.

Had she gone to her banker she would have saved herself the loss of her inheritance, but doubtless the reason she had not consulted her bank was because she was not aware that bankers render such a service.

A Widow Fell Among High Pressure Land Salesmen

Sad is the lot of the savings depositor who, after losing his savings through wild-cat speculation, is driven to desperation for funds and finds it necessary to borrow money to meet an emergency such as sickness or unpaid rent. Let me give the facts about two cases of the many with which I have come in contact.

The Loan Shark at Work

The principal characters in the first case are a man, who must borrow $350 to place his wife in a hospital to save her life, and a loan shark, who demands every ounce of blood. In desperation the borrower applies to this loan shark for the loan of $350.

This is what it costs him—the amount is almost unbelievable but I obtained the exact figures first hand and I can vouch for their correctness—this man was obliged to give his note for $925 for a loan of $350! The day he got the note the shark sold it to an innocent holder and it became an obligation binding upon the borrower. Think of paying $925 for a loan of $350!

Here is another. This time there is a woman in the case. The woman needed $165 to meet a payment on her furniture or lose it. She turned to telephoned her to call. It was now too late for her to make any other arrangements for borrowing the funds. The shark had planned it so that she would be at his mercy and would have to accept his terms. He charged her $450 for a loan of $165!

How the Shark Does It

Doubtless your curiosity is aroused as to how this shark can get away with such a deal. Here are the facts. He charged a large commission for making the loan and also included a wide range in fees such as for drawing up papers and notarial fees. On top of this he required the borrowers to buy stock in his company which was worthless. Then he required them to take out through him life insurance to about one hundred times the amount of the loan for which he received a liberal commission. In fact, he resorted to every imaginable scheme in order to bleed them of the last drop of blood they had to give. And the unfortunate thing about it all is that the borrowers in these two cases found it necessary to meet such exorbitant terms because they had already lost their savings through ill-advised investments.

(Article IV will give methods by which people can be protected from fraudulent operations.)

"Steals My Thunder" Says Davidson Of Attorney General

"Always glad to get a new customer," smiled Lynch Davidson to-day, as he sat in the offices of Lynch Davidson Lumber Company, retail and wholesale, and read Dan Moody's platform, in which, Davidson opined, Dan had used enough Davidson Lumber to entitle him to the wholesale discount.

"Mr. Moody is for civil service," commented Mr. Davidson. "In my platform published months ago I announced that 'by application of a civil service system to the state's affairs the political pie counter would be largely eliminated.' Mr. Moody spends several thousand words on the need of longer terms for the rural schools, which I covered by saying 'the adoption of the county unit system in Texas will increase efficiency to the extent that the rural school term may be lengthened from 20 to 25 per cent.' Other planks which Mr. Moody requisitions are redrafting of the textbook law, abuse of the pardon power, and less law-making. But while complaining of too many laws, Mr. Moody devoted about 10,000 words of his 12,000 word announcement to discussion of new laws and amendments he will advocate."

Mr. Davidson said that "it was hardly necessary for Mr. Moody to nail so many 'honest' signs on his platform. Honesty has been accepted as a principle of American government since 1776."

Mr. Davidson added that "both my private and public life have stood the calcium light of a gubernatorial campaign and Mr. Moody has the distinction of being the first, after eight had opposed me in the previous race, to question my honesty and integrity. The people of Texas are fixed in their determination to rid Texas of Fergusonism and I join in that common cause. I announced at the close of the last campaign that I would be a candidate against the Fergusons. I later reiterated my opposition to them and it was conceded that my candidacy would easily defeat them and that other entries would split the vote and muddy the waters. In face of these facts, Mr. Moody entered the race to 'save Texas from Fergusonism' and the excuse given in his platform is that the announced candidates did not appreciate the 'gravity of honesty and integrity' in government. Here is what he says: 'It was apparent to my mind, therefore, that if the good name of Texas was to be redeemed, it could not be accomplished by the election of either of those then seeking the office, and I conceived it to be apparent that the welfare of the state called for some other candidate to enter the field. Under those conditions and in the interest of an honest and efficient government and in obedience to a sense of public duty I offered myself as a candidate for governor on March 6th and proclaimed that in my judgment the paramount and vital issue was 'honesty' in office and economy in the administration of every department of government.' The next excuse for Mr. Moody to enter the race is the statement that I have branded as a mistake his efforts to compel road contractors to return unconscionable profits to the public treasury, having reference to an interview given out by me on the road controversy in November. Here's an excerpt from that statement: 'The highest possible commendation is due the youthful attorney general for his splendid zeal in behalf of the public interests.'

And this is why Mr. Moody in order to 'save Texas from Fergusonism' enters the race and splits the anti-Ferguson vote."

"In his lengthy platform, Mr. Moody allows only a scant two paragraphs to our greatest business problems. He barely mentions agriculture, toward which he favors a 'beneficent conduct' of government. He might have indicated a plan, if any, for checking the devastating fluctuation of cotton prices which has cost our farmers as much as four hundred million dollars in a season, and which may cost them that much again unless some successful means of distribution is effected. Mr. Moody might have indicated his plan, if any, to prevent monopoly ownership of our oil and mineral resources and the extermination of competition."

These problems, by the side of which the highway scandal appears a scramble for pennies, are the problems which must be solved to assure Texas citizenship the ordinary comforts of life. In my platform I mentioned the old lady who when asked what it was had 'sustained and soothed' her through life responded 'vittles.' After reading Mr. Moody's platform I wonder whether he is not letting his instincts as a lawyer run ahead of what ability he may have as a business man who can provide Texas with 'vittles.'

Chevrolet Company Spends $10,000,000 On Expansion Program

Detroit, Mich., May 17.—The largest expansion program in the history of Chevrolet Motor Company involving the expenditure of $10,000,000 and increasing the company's production facilities to a peak capacity of 1,000,000 cars per year, will be inaugurated June 1, according to an announcement just made by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Building plans have been completed, machinery ordered and by January 1, 1927, the company will be fully prepared to build 1,000,000 Chevrolet cars during the coming year.

Under the new program, company employees numbering 20,000 during full time operation, will be increased proportionally.

Closed body production facilities, will be 750,000 annually, constituting 75 per cent of the total production of Chevrolet cars.

Sixty per cent of the $10,000,000 will be spent in installing improved machinery and equipment of the most modern type and the remainder will be expended in erecting additions to various plants of the company in the United States.

With present equipment, capable of producing 750,000 cars a year, unable to meet the demand for Chevrolet cars and reports showing the factory production greatly oversold, the building program calls for additions to seven of the company's plants located at Detroit, Flint and Bay City, Michigan; Toledo and Cincinnati, O.; Janesville, Wis. and St. Louis, Mo.

The additions will provide greatly increased facilities at the forge, gear and axle plants at Detroit, to the motor plant at Flint, the small parts plant at Bay City and the transmission plant at Toledo. Expansion of the Fisher Body plants adjoining Chevrolet plants at Cincinnati, Janesville and St. Louis will meet the augmented demand for closed bodies.

"Facilities for building the Chevrolet car will be equal to those for producing the finest high-grade automobile made in this country, regardless of price," said Mr. Knudsen.

"The expansion is being made in line with the Chevrolet Motor company's closely followed policy in the past of utilizing the most modern equipment available, enabling us to constantly increase the quality of our product."

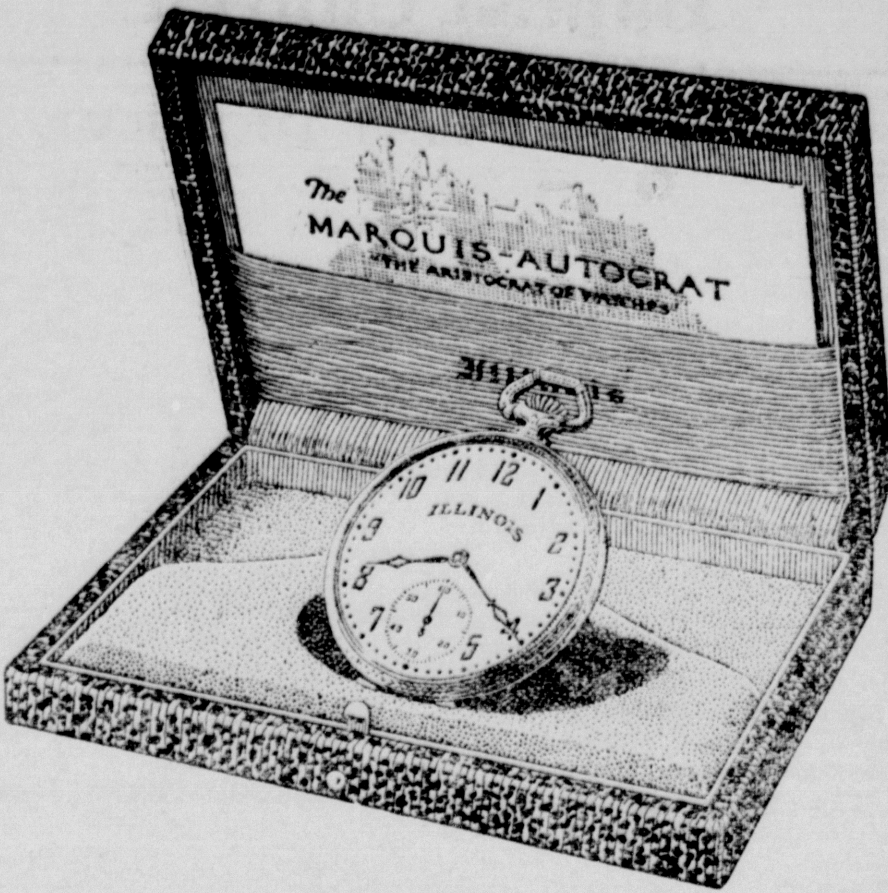

"Inherent quality is the most essential feature of any automobile, and most of necessity be greater in a lighter car than in the heavier types, where the factor of safety need not be figured so closely."

"This unprecedented expansion of the Chevrolet Motor company has no other explanation than that of the constantly increasing demand on the part of the public for the improved car. It is recognized on our part of this steadily growing favor of the Chevrolet car with the motor-buying public that has caused us to prepare for the future and to be ready to produce 1,000,000 cars during the coming year."

FIGHTING METHODIST EVANGELIST GETS IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR; IS AGAINST LAWYER AND POLITICIAN

Naples, May 15.—Announcing for his slogan, "The preacher against the Politicians," Rev. O. F. Zimmerman of Naples, who is known as "Zim, the Tithing Evangelist," opened his campaign for the governorship of Texas. In it he proclaimed his demand for a revision in criminal procedure in Texas, and insisted that criminal prosecution might follow information as well as indictment, and that nine men on a jury may convict. He would so change the criminal code that when a defendant in a criminal case failed to take the witness stand that fact could be freely commented on by the prosecution.

Evolution also is declared to be an issue in the campaign.

Much of Rev. Mr. Zimmerman's speech dealt with lawyers. He would bar them from sitting in either of the legislative bodies in Texas. He discriminated between the "clean brained" and the "political, pin-head, State-wrecking lawyer". The latter, unless driven from the capital, will ruin Texas as for the next 50 years, he declared.

Caustic comment was directed against Dan Moody and Lynch Davidson, other candidates in the gubernatorial race. The "Kilkenny fight" between Jim and Dan is called a vaudeville act. Both political camps are filled with pin-headed politicians. Rev. Mr. Zimmerman called attention to the "alignment of O. B. Colquitt and M. M. Crane with Dan."

"Dan doesn't play fair, and can not, supported by the modern Texas politician," he declared. "Dan well knows that he received the klan vote in the last election. If he doesn't I can prove it to him, and the klan well knows that he smote the hand that voted for him.

"They tell us that Lynch Davidson is a business man, but would a business man turn and render outside interests that develop our oil resources? Had it not been for outside oil capital Texas oil wells would have been as scarce as Davidson's business ability. We have no political brief for the ways of the outside oil man, but if I can not prove that he has put more money in Texas than he has taken out I will withdraw and support Lynch in the race."

"The teacher who outlaws God and outrages decency by teaching that our grandpa evolved from a monkey and our sainted old grandmother came by the tadpole route," is a greater menace to Texas, he said, "than a million Jim Fergusons, and if we do not root it out Texas is going to be God-forsaken and devil-cursed." If elected, Rev. Zimmerman promised that he will fight this brainstorm of science until the fathers and mothers of our state may again say, we are not afraid to send our boys and girls away to college, for Zim, our God-directed governor, has driven this accursed thing from our state."

The World Court and the League of Nations he referred to as "this twofold child of hell called a world court."

A law providing for the issuance of bonds covering the cotton crop, and holding it by the state, was advocated.

"If Great Britain, under the Stevenson Act, can guarantee that rubber will not go below 40c a pound, and Brazil, under the coffee valuation act, can stabilize her coffee market, why cannot Texas, under a Zim Cotton Act, stabilize her cotton crop?"

Principal among his law-enforcement demands are:

A public defender, and the elimination of private defense lawyers.

Impeachment of any Appellate Court which would revise a case for new trial on a technicality.

Prosecution of felony charges or information as well as indictment.

Conviction by 9 instead of 12 men and the reduction of the number of challenges to not more than two for felonies nor more than four for capital offenses.

Conviction may be had on the uncorroborated evidence of accomplices "when the jury believes the testimony."

While not compelling the accused to testify, if he refuses to do so the prosecution may freely call the jury's attention to the fact."

A wife or husband will not be compelled to testify against their mate, but those who offer to testify shall be required to testify on all points the same as other witnesses.

Defense on the plea of insulting a female relative shall be restricted.

When a man shoots to kill one person, misses his aim and kills another, he shall be prosecuted as if he shot to kill the victim.

Repeal of the suspended sentence law.

No bail for persons convicted of a felony.

Removal from office of any court on whose docket is a case more than three months old.

Prosecution of indictments brought as the result of activities of State Rangers by the Attorney General or some prosecutor employed by the governor.

No question will be allowed relative to the requisition of any man accused of crime in any other state.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Newspaper advertising is of vital importance to every man or woman who spends money for the necessities or luxuries of life. By making a daily practice of reading the newspaper advertisements, you keep in close touch with the latest offerings and lowest prices.

Well advertised brands of merchandise are not only dependable in quality but are also, as a rule, the most economical. Here is a very concrete case of why this is true:

Mr. Warren Wright, president of the Calumet Baking Powder Co., is the authority for the statement that they spend millions of dollars in newspaper advertising. The tremendous volume of advertising creates a gigantic demand for Calumet—a demand that is maintained by the unrivalled quality of Calumet.

As demand grows, manufacturing costs are reduced and the price of Calumet, to the user, is brought down to the low point of economy.

Calumet advertising, like all other advertising back of a meritorious product, goes on record in black and white as to the value of Calumet Baking Powder. It promises the housewife better bakings and lower baking costs and the Calumet Company must live up to their printed pledge, which, of course, they do and have done for the past 37 years.

Newspaper advertising is localized advertising. Consequently, it benefits the dealer as well as the consumer, because it reaches buyers who can transact business with him. It moves the goods from his shelves. It keeps his stock fresh and clean. It enables him to sell the highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices.

The very fact that a dealer carries and features heavily advertised brands is clear evidence of his sincerity in serving his customers to the best advantage. He might temporarily make a bigger profit through the sale of unadvertised brands, but he could not give his trade the values made possible by advertising that decreases costs through increased demand.

If you want reliable merchandise at reasonable costs—if you want goods that are backed by the faith, the integrity and the printed pledge of the manufacturer—read the advertisements and remember that the millions of dollars spent by prominent manufacturers is a mighty factor in giving your money greater buying power.

Farmers Hire too Many Men

A visitor to this Bank recently remarked that one reason why so many farmers had to borrow money every spring to see them through until harvest time was that they hired too many men. When asked to explain he said:

"Thousands of farmers do not produce their own meat. They hire a farmer up North to grow their hogs; they hire a railroad to haul those hogs to market; hire a packing house company to butcher them; then hire another railroad to haul them to Texas where a cold storage man is hired to keep them, and then a retail merchant is hired to serve them in small portions over his counter."

The same thing can be said about the farmer WHO BUYS CORN AND OTHER FEEDSTUFFS; who buys butter, canned fruits, canned milk, and other foods that he could produce himself. He hires some other farmer to produce his feed and food, and then hires a lot of men to handle them for him until he is ready to use them. If fewer men were hired our farmers would be more prosperous.

CAMERON FIREMEN WILL GO TO HARLINGEN SOON

RACING TEAM WILL ENTER CONTESTS AT HARLINGEN IN JUNE THIS YEAR

The expenses of two firemen was authorized at the meeting of the city council on Tuesday to the convention at Harlingen.

Capt. Joe Lindsey has the racing team in good shape and about ready for the contest at Harlingen in which the first prize is $1,000.

Harlingen, May 15.—The volunteer fire departments of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, known as the fifth district, is rushing final arrangements for the fiftieth convention of the Texas State Firemen's Association, which will be held at Harlingen on June 8, 9, 10 and 11.

At least 10,000 visitors are expected for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the association and all valley towns have united to make this gathering a memorial one for the volunteer firemen of the State. There are 11 departments in the valley, which compose the fifth district.

A general arrangements committee, composed of the chief and two members of each department, have been meeting regularly for the past six months, working out details of entertainment for the visitors and arranging for housing and transportation of the delegates.

Practically every home in Harlingen, San Benito, La Feria, Mercedes, Weslaco, Donna and Brownsville will be thrown open for the visitors. Women's organizations have been appealed to to provide sufficient eating accommodations. Every town has subscribed its quota toward an entertainment fund.

A special invitation has been addressed to all city officials of Mexico to attend the convention as observers and fraternal guests. A special stenographer is to be engaged by the local committee to take down all proceedings and translate them into Spanish, when they will be printed and presented to these delegates each morning.

All railroads are offering free transportation to elected representatives of volunteer departments and thousands are coming by auto. Special grounds are being prepared for those who desire to camp out. Word has been received from one town alone that was sending 68 cars filled with visitors for the duration of the meet.

Mrs. Reba Cheeves Warner of Ft. Smith Arkansas and little daughter, Rebecca Jane are visiting Mrs. S. W. Cheeves.

CITY LEAGUE HERE GETS UNDER WAY

FOUR TEAMS BEGIN BATTLE FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP HERE TUESDAY

There has been quite a bit of interest manifested in the organization of a city league here. The league has been formed and the schedule arranged and the first game was played on May 18. Two games will be played a week through the months of June and July and the remainder of May.

The four teams composing the league are as follows: The North Siders, Bob Terry manager; The Sap Sluggers, William Rogers, manager; K. P's, Red Collins, manager, Lions Club, Ray Burke manager.

The managers of these teams have had several meetings with the personnel of their teams and they have formed their organization and drafted a set of rules and regulations as follows:

1. Each team can carry 15 men on the roster.
2. A man must be on the waiting list seven days unless agreeable to both managers.
3. An admission of 15c will be charged to all games.
4. All players must live in Cameron.
5. All players must be amateurs.
6. The managers will meet with Mr. Jackson, the president, to decide all disputes.

7. Each team will deposit with the president $5.00 at the beginning of the season.

8. Any deficiency will be born by the four teams.

9. Each team will furnish own equipment.

10. Games will be started promptly at 5:00 o'clock.

A complete schedule and list of the players of the teams will appear in the next week's issue of the papers.

Look Better Feel Better In a SPALDING Swimming Suit

Four inches more stretch! That's what the special Spalding method of knitting gives to the Spalding Swimming Suit. It's as easy to wear as your own skin.

When you stretch, this swimming suit stretches too—as far as you want.

You never stretch it to the limit. You never feel the tug of reluctant shoulder straps—no harsh edges chafing your sunburn. You're free.

And because the fabric is never stretched to the limit the Spalding swimming suit never sags. Ease the pressure, and zip, it's back in the original shape.

Even the stitching—around the neck and armholes, at the waist and around the trunks is done with worsted thread. Springy thread, full of life. What's the use of a suit that stretches in the middle, if it binds at the edges?

And the crotch is wholly comfortable. Just one thickness. Plenty of strength, but no bulk.

It's swimming weather! Get the kinks out of your winter-cramped body and mind—in a suit you won't know you're wearing.

The Spalding suit looks as good to others as it feels to you. Speedy lines. Bright colors that stay bright.

S. H. TERRELL CANDIDATE 2ND TERM COMPTROLLER

HAS GIVEN PEOPLE WORTH SERVICE AS STATE OFFICIAL IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Sam Houston Terrell, comptroller, is a candidate for re-election to that office, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.

The announcement of Mr. Terrell will be welcomed by his friends in Milam County. Mr. Terrell was given a decisive majority in Milam county two years ago. He carried Gause the home box of his opponent by ten votes and beat him elsewhere in the county.

Mr. Terrell will have the active support of his friends here. In making his announcement in a communication to the Herald Mr. Terrell said:

When I offered myself as a candidate for the office of Comptroller of Public Accounts two years ago, I promised the people of Texas "A Business Administration of the People's Business," and it is with quite a degree of pride that I review my record with the consciousness of having kept the faith, and believing that my accomplishments during my tenure of office will reflect a service of honest effort, economy, efficiency and courtesy, I have determined to become a candidate for re-election to a second term.

In my ambition to again be elected Comptroller, I sincerely trust that I may have the benefit of your valued support and influence. During my term of office I have been able to inaugurate a number of changes that have proved of benefit to the State and those dealing with the department, and I hope to be enabled to carry out a program entailing further improvement in the workings of the several divisions of my office.

Such success as I may have attained as a public official is largely attributed to the splendid co-operation I have received from officials throughout the State and the public in general, for which I am deeply grateful.

FUTURE BECKONS YOUNG AMERICANS

Achievements of Past Only Show Great Opportunity Ahead.

Great events of the past quarter century which lead some young men to complain that all the big things have been done, leaving no opportunity for them, as a matter of fact only go to show that even greater opportunity today lies ahead of them, F. N. Shepherd, Executive Manager of the American Bankers Association, recently told members of the American Institute of Banking in New York. After reviewing the outstanding accomplishments in science, industry and finance during the last twenty-five years, Mr. Shepherd emphasized the reward given men of achievement in America, especially in the financial field.

"The achievements of the past are the groundwork for the opportunities of today and tomorrow," he said. "There never was a time when so great were the potentialities of the individual. The world was never so ready and able to pay well for what it wants. For superior service to society under competitive conditions, whether through invention or production or organization or distribution of useful articles, no reward is begrudged, particularly here in America."

"Adding to human comfort and human needs, these things make life finer and better. The world has shared, but it is in America that they have reached their highest development and utilization. The American spirit of useful enterprise, however, does not confine itself within our own borders. It permeates the entire world and renders great service to peoples other than our own."

"Let us pass over America's service to humanity in the war and consider what is being done now. Largely to rebuild the economic life of a world shattered by the war and its devastating after effects, America has, since the war, loaned other peoples over ten billion dollars. Last year alone a billion and a half in foreign financing was consummated in the United States. American financial genius has so far readjusted our banking machinery to meet enlarged international obligations that stupendous foreign loans, such as the $100,000,000 Dawes plan credit to Germany, are concluded and the books closed after being open to public subscription only a few minutes."

"With our new world viewpoints we in America have many great things yet to do. These things are typical of the broadminded world viewpoint of American finance. It shows the vision necessary to the men who guide our business affairs today. Certainly there is an inspiration in this and the great opportunities which await us."

Bankers and business men of the leading towns of Taylor county, Texas, employed a county agent last spring, and requested that he vigorously promote boys' and girls' club activities. As a result of his work over 300 club members were enrolled. Work is being concentrated this year on poultry culling and grain sorghum seed selection. This fall there will be exhibits and contests, for which the business men are contributing generous prizes.
